LABELS

If men were really worried about being mistaken for women there might be something in the declaration of Joseph Byrne, secretary of the National Beauty and Barber Supply Dealers convention at Chicago, that the sterner sex would be forced to grow beards in self defense. The whisker is not the distinguishing mark of a man. It no tonger plays a part in the business of being male. Limiting observation strictly to the United States, one finds that a peculiar custom has grown up among men which can be explained only by the fact that having discovered the comfort of being clean-shaved and loosely garbed the masculine element is set in a way of beardlessness. No more stiff clotnes, no more harry tolerated. Only sheer laziness or lack of care lets to daytime dress. Trimmed with yellow woolen which appears in the coller racing and the safety razor, ness. A BOOMERANG

The democratic attempt to make it appear that the republicans are engaged in a whispering campaign against Gov. Smith has been pretty well exploded. The effort stands clearly revealed now as part of a democratic scheme to capitalize opposition to its nomince within that party.

It is unfortunate that the democratic nominee and his managers felt justified in going to such extreme lengths to capture votes, because by their tactics they have fanned the flames of bigotry, but so far as the republican campaign is concerned the Smith-Robinson Caraway attack upon it has had the effect of a boomerang.

In other words, it no wise established to the satisfaction of everyone that the republican national committee not only cannot but would not engage in the kind of effort that has been imputed to it. On the contrary, Mr. Hoover has been the victim of a malignant, slanderous, veremous campaign that has attacked his home, his religion and everything that a man holds dear.

But he has measured up to the test, and manfully has kept silence, knowing that extreme partisans al ways make extreme statements and by his course of conduct has again won the admiration of the American people. He has acted in the way that we know a man who aspires to the presidency si ould act. He has acted like a president.

Governor Smith's approval of the Underwood tariff should be received with applicase (?) by the beet growers. Only the war saves the industry from annihilation. All the Underwood tariff did was almost wipe out $250,000,000 invested in the industry, and now Smith would like to repeat what was occasioned by Mr. Underwood.

We have too much respect for the middle wester farmer, or any other farmer, to think for a minute he would be gullible enough to entertain anything con-in that speech of Governor Smith's at Omaha.

SYNOPSIS

Al Stone, singing valeter at Blackie Joe's New York night clav, wins fame on Broadway as a composer of popular songs. He marries Molly Winton, a ballad singer, and makes her famous, too. Molly and Al have a baby, Junior, whom Al adores. Molly becomes romantically interested in John Perry, Al's closed friend, and Perry, begalter to leave Al. On the third amiversary of his marriage Al takes Molly home from the Club Bombo, where he is part owner. She is maddy, her conscience bothers her behavior with Perry, This is intensified when Al goes to the nursery and she sees how ardently he loves Junior. Later, in a burst love him any more. As Al recoils, Melly hears Junior calling her.

CHAPTER XV

Junior had awakened to find that his toy, his woolly dog, had dropped out of teed. So he was calling to Molly to come and get it for him. Why does the Banker-object so seriously to carrying overdrafts? The answer is easy. An overdraft is merely an unsecured loan.

The Banker has a responsibility to his depositors. He cannot permit their money to be risked that way. Do not ask this Bank to honor your checks if you haven't sufficient funds. You are simply asking us to let you have some of our depositors money without security. We cannot do that, for it is not it line with our sound business pol-
